

Seismic 2

LZ in Bondurant, just southeast of Jackson Hole

Evergreen choppers

The Reverend LSDewitt Morris waiting to hook up a cable cache

The Field of Dreams — the northern terminus of Wyoming Range abuts the Gros Ventre Range

My introduction to the dynamite crew – sitting on their asses, which I changed pronto

Classic hogback ridge

Not a walk in the park — used lots of dynamic rope to descend this Country the yuppie backpackers never see

After the summer mountains we moved to the wintry Red Desert of southern Wyoming

Drill ops in typical Green River Basin Eocene formations

Readying to cross the deep and powerful Green River on the ice at -42F

Brutal and dangerous work

This is how it happens in the real world, where real men do real work every day

Ruined windmill on abandoned homestead in one of the most desolate parts of America

From here directly to the warm mountains of southern Mexico